

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

MISS EMILY MONTAGUE, of New York, who has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Montague, of No. 113 East Franklin Street, is now spending some time in the home of Mr. John H. Tyler, on West Franklin Street, before her return to New York. Mr. and Mrs. Montague and Miss Helen Montague have gone to Millbrook Springs.

Miss Mary B. McCarthy, daughter of the Mayor, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. W. Davis, and of her cousin, Mr. Lawrence Davis, near Roanoke.

The Richmond girls now attending a house party on Armistead Avenue, Hampton, of which Miss Ida Swanson is hostess, are Misses Gladys and Sadie Neale. Other guests include Miss Grace and Miss Rubenette Lee, of Irvington, Va.; Misses Flora Batten, Mr. Branch, Frank Underwood, Helen Jordan and Mary Joyner, of Smithfield, Va.

The party enjoyed a dinner given in their honor at Ocean View Hotel Tuesday evening by the young men of Hampton, and an entertainment Thursday by Mrs. L. M. Neale, at her Buckroe cottage.

This morning a shirtwaist hop at Buckroe Beach will prove enjoyable, and to-morrow will be devoted to a cruise around Hampton Roads on the yacht Commodore Maury. The hop at the Chamberlin Hotel Saturday night will close the week's round of pleasure.

Off to Mountain Lake.

Miss Jella Scott, who has been enjoying midsummer in Staunton, has gone for a two-weeks' pleasure trip to Mountain Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker and family, and Miss Mattie Taylor accompanied Miss Scott. She attended the German given at Highland Park, Staunton, this week, and danced with Mr. Henderson Light.

Miss Beale Jackson and Miss Margaret Eastfield passed through Richmond yesterday on their way to Mount Airy, the home of Miss Patty Lohrson, in Powhatan county, where the story of last year's delightful house gathering is to be repeated this year with variations and additions.

Mrs. Mary Pace Groner reached Richmond yesterday morning from the Adirondack Mountains, and will spend some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Pace.

Mrs. Groner has been cultivating her voice during the past winter in New York under the best masters, and will return to the metropolis at the end of her visit to Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Catlin, Miss Bessie Catlin, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Talley and Miss Kate Talley leave to-day to spend the summer at Rawley Springs, according to their annual custom.

Mr. Manfred Call and Dr. Manfred Call, his son, called on London yesterday for New York. They are expected some next Friday after a six weeks' trip on the continent of Europe and through the British Isles.

Other Summer Travelers.

Among the Richmond people at Edna Hill, Montvale, are the Rev. and Mrs. Henry Pearce Atkins, Misses Dorothy and Nell Atkins, Mrs. E. S. Curry, Mr. and Mrs. John Lyons and son, Mrs. Reynolds and the Misses Reynolds, Mrs. Lewis Wheat and the Misses Wheat and Miss Jane Rutherford.

The Windsor, the home of Miss Snead at York Union, Va., is another center of Richmond life and interest, for among the guests there are Mrs. Edward Evans, Masters Edward and Robert Evans, Mrs. Saunders and Miss Alma Saunders, Mrs. S. C. Winn, Mrs. E. H. Chalkley, Miss Williams, Mrs. Craigie, Master Stewart and Walter Craigie, Miss Cornelia Watkins, Mrs. George L. Fauntleroy and Miss Reed, all of this city.

Grace Street Library.

Miss Dorothy Hart will be the librarian of a circulating library, to be opened to-day on the ground floor of 501 East Gray Street.

The convenience and attractiveness of the location and of the young lady in charge promises great pleasure to readers and great demand for her books.

Personal Mention.

Miss Ida Bargamin has returned to the city after visiting Mrs. Nancy Nash Booth in Freemansburg, Norfolk.

Mrs. L. M. Hart, of 1301 Grove Avenue, is spending the summer at Virginia Beach.

GOODMAN STILL WATCHING PLAY

Author of "The Right to Live" May Soon Enjoy Unique Distinction.

JULES ECKERT GOODMAN.

Jules Eckert Goodman, playwright, author of "The Right to Live," the virile drama of life and conditions in the New York of to-day, is still watching the production at the Academy.

The play produced here by the Giffen Company is the second of a trilogy from the pen of Mr. Goodman. The first of the three plays of New York life is "The Test," which will be produced on Broadway in the autumn under the direction of William A. Brady.

The second of the trilogy, which received its premiere here, may also go to Mr. Brady, but as yet no definite business arrangements have been concluded. The third of the Goodman plays is as yet unnamed, but has been accepted by the Shuberts, who will star Louis Mann in it. In the event that Mr. Goodman puts the producing rights of "The Right to Live" into other hands, he will enjoy the distinction of being the only playwright in the theatrical history of America having three productions running simultaneously on Broadway.

Mr. Goodman is a graduate of Harvard and has been engaged in literary work since he left the university. He is a native of Colorado Springs, Col. He has won distinction in the literary world as a writer of short stories. For several years he was the leading editorial writer on Current Literature. Later he edited the Bohemian, while contributing regularly to the Outlook and other magazines. Mr. Goodman is thirty-seven years old. His wife accompanied him to Richmond. He is the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Giffen. The performances of "The Right to Live" for the remainder of the week will be under the personal direction of the playwright.
